DEAR VISITORS,

As a native of North Carolina, I am honored to welcome you to my home state. The Official 2020 North Carolina Travel Guide will give you a glimpse of the destinations and attractions that make our state the place to be year-round.

Whether it's your first visit or your 15th, there is always something new to experience in North Carolina. I can say with confidence that our majestic mountains, pristine coastline, welcoming small towns and dynamic cities hold something for everyone who chooses to visit us here.

The North Carolina mountains offer endless adventures and views that will take your breath away: a stunning land of waterfalls, the oldest river in North America, farm-fresh foods and some of the country's best craft beer. It's a place where there's always more to explore.

The central part of North Carolina, the Piedmont, offers creative energy and deep history. Home to the state's largest cities, you can experience world-class sporting events, explore outstanding museums, and savor some of the finest food and local wines.

Along the coast, 300 miles of beaches pair with quaint coastal towns, timeless waterways and unforgettable local seafood, providing a great escape for families and couples alike.

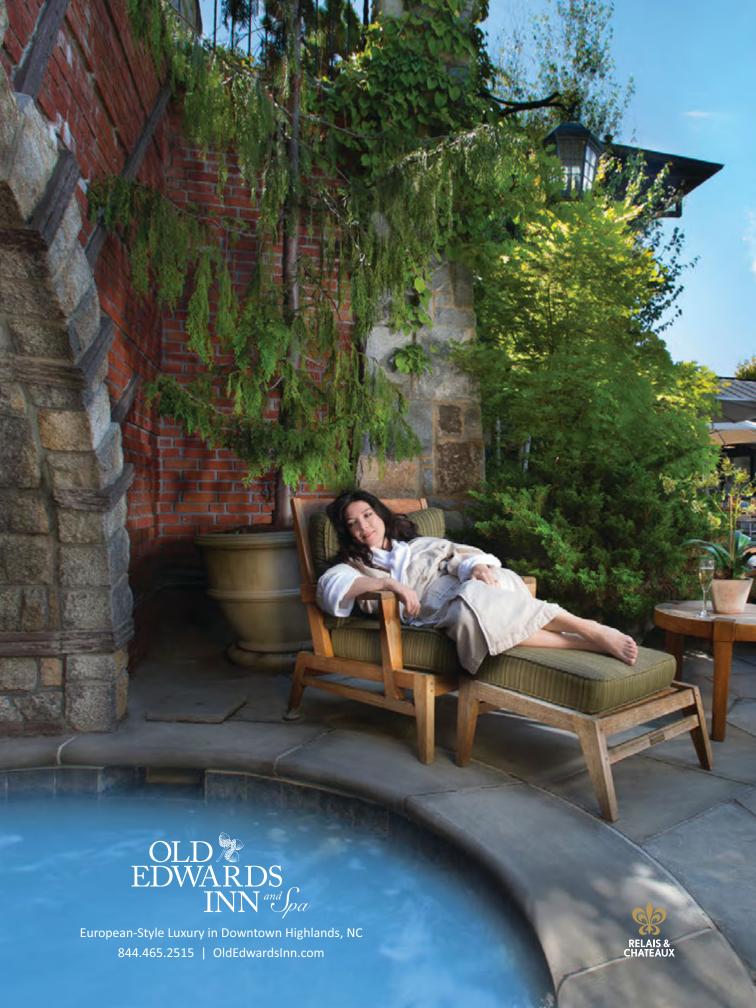

As you travel the state, I encourage you to experience the best that we have to offer and meet the people who make each of these regions so special. You will come to discover what North Carolinians already know: There's no better place to be.

We are glad you chose to visit North Carolina!

Sincerely,

Roy Cooper
Governor Roy Cooper

INFO FOR travelers

WELCOME CENTERS AND REST AREAS

North Carolina's welcome centers and highway rest areas offer opportunities for convenient, brief stops, and they provide easy roadside access to public restrooms, snack/drink machines, drinking water and telephones. Welcome centers also offer picnic tables, family restrooms and even displays of North Carolina crafts.

Professional travel counselors at each welcome center provide detailed travel information and distribute the state's Official North Carolina Travel Guide, the Department of Transportation's official state map and other marketing publications exclusively about North Carolina. They can also book room reservations at no charge for visitors staying overnight in the Tar Heel State.

The welcome centers are open 8 a.m to 5 p.m. daily, except New Year's Day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. Rest areas are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. For more information about traveling in North Carolina, go to visitnc.com.

RULES OF THE ROAD

- Seat belt use is mandatory for drivers and passengers in front and rear seats.
- Child seats are required for children younger than age 8 or children less than 80 pounds.
   Learn more at buckleupnc.org.
- When passing an emergency vehicle, tow truck or work crew with flashing lights on the highway shoulder, move over one lane if possible, or reduce speed.
- In work zones, obey the speed limit, stay alert, and be aware of physical hazards such as traffic shifts or lane reductions.
- If you are in a minor, noninjury accident, move your vehicle to the shoulder of the road.

- Motorists are required to use headlights when using windshield wipers in inclement weather.
- Right turns on red are permitted after a complete stop, unless otherwise posted. Left turns on red are not permitted.
- Cell phone use by drivers younger than 18 is prohibited except in an emergency or when talking to a parent or spouse.
- It is illegal to read or send text messages or emails while driving.
- Motorcyclists must wear helmets and use headlights at all times.
- Littering is against the law and carries a sizable fine. Learn more by searching Swat-A-Litterbug online.

STATEWIDE TRAVEL INFORMATION

Information on travel conditions is available online at ncdot.gov/travel, where you can search by region, route or county for current traffic, incident or adverse weather conditions that might affect your trip. Via phone, visitors can access updated travel information, including construction and traffic delays along interstates and major highways, by dialing 511. To speak to a VisitNC representative, call (800) VISIT NC (847-4862).

DISABILITY ACCESS

Information for travelers with disabilities is available online or via download in English and Spanish in ACCESS North Carolina: A Vacation and Travel Guide for People with Disabilities. This publication provides information about parking, paths, entrances and restrooms for hundreds of attractions, and it rates how accessible each attraction is for different types of disabilities. Email accessnorthcarolina@gmail.com to inquire about the vacation guide or accessible tourism in North Carolina. View the guide at ncdhhs.gov/ documents/access-north-carolinavacation-and-travel-guide-peopledisabilities.

The Americans with Disabilities Act establishes a variety of standards for different types of properties. Visitors with disabilities and accessibility needs are encouraged to contact the accommodations or attractions directly to learn about their accessibility features.

FERRY INFORMATION

The North Carolina Department of Transportation's ferry system includes 21 ferries that operate 365 days a year on seven routes along the coast, including Bayview-Aurora, Currituck-Knotts Island, Cedar Island-Ocracoke, Swan Quarter-Ocracoke, Hatteras-Ocracoke, Cherry Branch-Minnesott Beach and Southport-Fort Fisher. Ferries can accommodate motorcycles and any size car, trailer or RV that can operate on the highway.

Ferries provide links to lighthouses, pristine beaches, historic sites, outdoor recreational activities and more.

Reservations for the Cedar Island-Ocracoke or Swan Quarter-Ocracoke routes can be made by calling (800) BY-FERRY (293-3779) or visiting ncferry.org. Motorists must claim their reservation at least 30 minutes prior to departure, or it will be canceled. All other ferry routes operate on a first-come, first-served basis.

NORTH CAROLINA'S AMTRAK TRAIN SERVICE

Amtrak service to North Carolina is the gateway to your getaway with daily Amtrak passenger trains serving 25 North Carolina cities. There are also daily round-trip train services between Raleigh and Charlotte and connecting thruway service to the North Carolina coast. Plan your trip and purchase tickets online at amtrak.com, or call (800) USA-RAIL (872-7245).

SAFETY AND ALERTS

COMPELLING NARRATIVES

For 80-plus years, The Lost Colony has wowed audiences in Manteo with epic battles and American Indian dances on an outdoor stage triple the size of one on Broadway. The production dramatizes the mysterious disappearance of 117 English colonists from Roanoke Island in 1590. Learn about the first habitants of Hatteras Island and buy crafts at the Frisco Native American Museum. Farther inland, nobody knows the origin of Lake Phelps at Pettigrew State Park near Creswell, but artifacts like dugout canoes (some at least 4,000 years old) show the ingenuity of Carolina Algonquian people. Two canoes are on display in the park's information center. Digs at Town Creek Indian Mound near Mount Gilead have uncovered homes, civic structures and a burial hut belonging to the Pee Dee culture 1,000 years ago.

Centrally located in North Carolina, Winston-Salem combines the historic experience of a 260-year-old Moravian village with a hip and vibrant downtown scene named a Forbes Top 10 Best Downtown. ### CHEROKEE WAYS

Drama unfolds in Cherokee on an outdoor stage each summer as the Cherokee Indian story comes to life in Unto These Hills. It begins in 1540, when Spanish explorers arrive on the state's western edge and continues today, as 14,000 tribal members still live in the Great Smoky Mountains.

Get immersed in their culture on a visit to the town of Cherokee. Weavers make baskets, hunters shoot blowguns and workers hull canoes at Oconaluftee Indian Village, which re-creates an 18th-century Cherokee community. Artifacts at the Museum of the Cherokee Indian take visitors on a 13,000-year journey, including the Paleo-Indian period and the Trail of Tears, the tribe's forced move to Oklahoma. Bonfires at nearby Oconaluftee Islands Park commemorate the journey with lively costumes and movements. Creativity shines at Qualla Arts and Crafts Mutual, the oldest Native American cooperative in the United States. Pottery, toys and beadwork make meaningful souvenirs.

The legacy of the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians extends beyond town. In Hayesville, free self-guided tours cover a summer house, winter house and food storage crib at the Cherokee Homestead Exhibit. At the adjacent museum, see rare Cherokee quilts, carvings and baskets.

Enjoy music, stories, treats and crafts at Connemara, the house where the literary legend lived and wrote for much of his life. Sandburg produced a third of his works and won his second Pulitzer Prize here. You can also hike 5 miles of trails, pet goats and pick up volumes of Sandburg's poetry at the bookstore.

3 PLAY 'FREE BIRD'

Lake Mattamuskeet gets a big boost of visitors—both human and winged—during the winter months, with more than 250,000 Alaskan tundra swans, snow geese, Canada geese and ducks calling it their temporary home. Visit Swanquarter's Mattamuskeet National Wildlife Refuge during December's annual Swan Days Festival to welcome the majestic creatures' return. Tundra swans—known for their unique calls—also find sanctuary at Pea Island National Wildlife Refuge, where you can spot bald eagles, barred owls and great blue herons too. The occasional black bear meanders among the swans, mallards and great blue herons at Pocosin Lakes National Wildlife Refuge near Columbia.

ESTATE WINE

Daytime admission to Biltmore gets you a free tasting at the on-site winery. After sampling from a selection of more than 20 reds, whites and rosés, you can purchase a full glass at the indooroutdoor bar and take home a bottle from the wine shop. Premium wine experiences include indulgent wine-cheese and wine-chocolate pairings, and a celebration of sparkling wines.

CHILL ON THE COAST

With summer crowds gone and temps staying relatively mild (in the 50s), winter's the time to seize some coastal serenity. Take a 2-mile ferry ride across the Cape Fear River to reach Bald Head Island. Locals and visitors join in on Friday-night marshmallow roasts and fishing trips to catch speckled trout, striped bass and redfish. You'll also want to climb 108 steps to the top of Old Baldy, the state's oldest standing lighthouse—it guided many a ship through shoals and storms. Seashell hunters love storms, as the strong winds reveal colorful treasures after low tide. The yellow-gray shells of prized channeled whelk—with signature purple streaks—sit in the sands of Corolla. (They can be up to a foot long.) Comb the beaches of Cape Lookout National Seashore for the Scotch bonnet, the state's official shell. Look for yellow-brown squares on a white background, the plaid pattern that earned the shell its name.

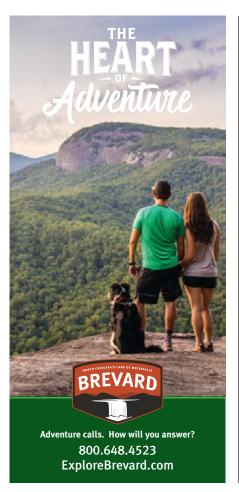

The Boone area boasts a beautiful array of winter scenery, from tree-lined hillsides to snow-capped mountaintops. See both on the accessible Boone Greenway trail. Level terrain allows bicycles and wheelchairs to navigate along the New River, passing forests and a covered bridge. Near Brevard, Looking Glass Falls becomes an icy cascade in winter. It's easy to get to, with parking next to a viewing deck. Demanding winter hikes await in the Piedmont at Stone Mountain State Park, where a 4.5-mile loop takes explorers past the summit and a waterfall. While falls can be pretty, respect Mother Nature and stay safe.

Traveling in the South was dangerous for African Americans during the Jim Crow era. Green Book helped them navigate. Learn more at North Carolina's remaining Green Book sites and other history-rich venues.

irst published as The Negro Motorist Green Book by Victor H. Green in 1936, what came to be known simply as Green Book was a directory of hotels, restaurants, gas stations and other establishments that African Americans could patronize safely during segregation. Over the years, more than 300 North Carolina businesses appeared in Green Book, some still standing—and a few still open—today. The North Carolina African American Heritage Commission's Green Book Project documents and celebrates these businesses, the heart and soul of the state's African American community. Relive history at actual  $Green\,Book$  sites, and visit other places rich in this culture.

GREENSBORO

THE HISTORIC MAGNOLIA HOUSE

GREENSBORO

Established in 1949, the Magnolia House Motel housed families visiting students at nearby historically black colleges, as well as famous African Americans like Ray Charles, Tina Turner, Jackie Robinson and James Baldwin. Six Green Book editions listed it as a highly recommended place to stay. Restorations finished in 2012 revived the Victorian building, which now hosts Wednesdayand Thursday-night suppers (think fish and grits), a Sunday jazz brunch, and events like concerts and yoga classes set to live jazz.

DURHAM

SPEIGHT'S AUTO SERVICE CENTER

DURHAM

Opened in 1938, Speight's gave black motorists a place to stop for gas, oil and repairs. Forced to move for a freeway in the 1960s, it was one of the few businesses displaced by urban renewal that reopened. Speight's still works on cars and displays memorabilia from the shop's history.

SOULFUL SCULPTURE

In Tryon, see a larger-than-life sculpture of singer and civil rights activist Nina Simone, the "High Priestess of Soul."

ALSO IN DURHAM

PAULI MURRAY HOUSE

As an African American and women's rights activist, lawyer, and the first female African American Episcopal priest and saint, Pauli Murray played an integral yet often overlooked role in the most significant movements of the 20th century. Murray spent her childhood years in Durham, where her family home was recently named a National Historic Landmark. The house is being turned into a center for history and social justice.

THE BLOCK, ASHEVILLE

Asheville's hub of African American enterprise in the late 19th and early 20th centuries was called The Block. It included restaurants, doctor's offices, a library and a boarding house. Today, tour company Hood Huggers International offers visits to key sites and long-standing African American-owned businesses such as Benne on Eagle, dishing soul food and history.

HISTORIC JARVISBURG COLORED SCHOOL, CURRITUCK COUNTY

From 1868 until the 1950s, the school was one of few in the county to educate African American children. Today, the living-history museum features exhibits with testimonies from former students. Tours are available Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

THOMAS DAY HOUSE AND UNION TAVERN, MILTON

African American furnituremaker and cabinetmaker Thomas Day ran the state's most productive shop in the mid-19th century. His feats are recalled at this venue, now getting a new look that will feature some of Day's actual furniture pieces.

MOMENTS THOT MATTER

Plan your getaway at visitnesmalltowns.com

Stop and feel this moment. This is one of the simple experiences of joy that life is all about. The moment you take in that deep breath that you didn't realize you haven't been taking. The moment you laugh so hard you feel weightless for a second. The moment you reach the apex of your hike and take in the view. These are the moments that matter most when we look back. The busyness of our daily lives of ten causes us to forget to stop and enjoy the simple moments that matter most.

Lake Lure, Chimney Rock, and The Blue Ridge Foothills nvite you to come create your moments that matter with us.

ANIMAL MAGNETISM

COME FLYTRAP WITH ME

Sure, you've seen toothy Venus flytraps (and other carnivorous plants) in greenhouses and museums. But you can visit them in the wild in North Carolina.

ts candy-color grin suggests asweet personality. But the Venus flytrap is all business. its trigger hairs identifying anything that will supplement its diet. (Carnivorous plants get most nutrients from the air and soil. But mmm, bugs!) Visitors can spot these and other eaters along the ½-mile Carolina Beach State Park Flytrap Trail, part of a 70-mile radius around Wilmington that hosts the only native-growing flytraps in the world.

Flytraps, butterwort (with broad, sticky leaves) and pitcher plants grow along the trail edges, in addition to wildflowers. Stay on the trail to avoid damaging the fragile wetlands. Free guided hikes on weekends can help you spot all the feisty little gems.

LEAVE 'EM BE Don't bug the plants as they await their prey. And definitely don't dig them up—poaching flytraps is illegal.

My grandfather built a home on the White Oak River in Swansboro. Growing up, we could catch blue crabs, shrimp and fish off of his dock. Most of my childhood memories were created there, and now we spend practically the entire summer there. I'm teaching my children about all that. We also like going to Grandfather Mountain and Linville Gorge. I also love NC beaches, like Emerald Isle, Wrightsville and Carolina Beach.

Where to eat in NC: Brewery Bhavana in Raleigh. It's the perfect restaurant for lunch or dinner. Also, the chorizo torta in the back of the Sav/Way Foods grocery store in Charlotte is one of the best things I've ever eaten.

Our favorite thing to do is spend time in some of Western NC's smaller towns like Brevard, Waynesville, Sylva and Spruce Pine.

About 45 minutes southwest of Asheville off the Blue Ridge Parkway, Graveyard Fields is wild blueberry heaven!

Where to eat in NC: I love Garland and Poole's Diner in Raleigh; Dashi and Toast in Durham; and Kindred and Haymaker in the Charlotte area. Some of my favorite places to eat in Asheville are Vivian, Cucina 24, Wild Ginger, Taqueria Muñoz, Cúrate, Rocky's Hot Chicken Shack and All Souls Pizza.

TASTES OF NASCAR

Video games are good, but they don't compare to the racing simulators at the NASCAR Hall of Fame in Charlotte. Ultrarealistic iRacing software uses down-tothe-millimeteraccurate versions of actual NASCAR tracks and cars. During the holidays, drive your own car (at a sane speed) on the oval at Charlotte Motor Speedway. The annual Speedway Christmas features 4 million lights.

GET DRAGGED INTO IT

Empower yourself with lessons in confidence and control when you get behind the wheel at Roy Hill's Drag Racing School in Sophia. Hill, a legend in the sport, offers one- and two-day courses in handling a daunting dragster or super stock car. Or watch the pros burn rubber at Rockingham Dragway in Rockingham. The historic strip hosts races all year.

EXPLORE WHEEL ESTATE

Hit speeds of 55 mph in a rental go-kart on the world-class track at GoPro Motorplex in Mooresville. The 0.7-mile, 11-turn course mimics the historic Kartdromo Parma circuit in Italy. No reservations needed—just arrive and drive. Ride hard and get dirty is the motto at Busco Beach and ATV Park in Goldsboro, a muddy mecca that's open 24/7/365. Drive 2,000 acres of trails, including dirt, sand, water and mudholes.

LEAN IN

If Route 66 is the Mother Road, then the Tail of the Dragon in Deals Gap ought to be the Wacky Uncle Road. With 318 curves along its 11 miles, this stretch of US-129 bordering the Great Smoky Mountains tests drivers with tight turns, some banked like those on a race track. Motorcyclists spend much of the route leaning nearly sideways. The Cherohala Skyway along the state's western edge boasts views and bends so epic that it's been named one of the top motorcycle rides in the country.

WAKE UP ON WATER

Whether you're a newbie or a totally woke wakeboarder. the water's fine at Jibtopia Wake Park in Semora. It's a cable park (no tow boats), which makes it easier for beginners to get up on the water. Advanced riders can crank up the speed and add to their repertoire of tricks.

Sometimes a change of altitude is all it takes to change your attitude. In the state's mountainous west, lift your spirits with wow-inducing waterfalls, cast your cares into a fishing hole and discover the benefits of getting into hot water.

NATURAL HIGHS

Press the mental reset button at Sapphire's Gorges State Park, a temperate rain forest where waterfalls exude negative ions that yield positive effects on the mind and mood. The Rainbow Falls Trail leads to a massive 150-foot-tall cataract—look for a rainbow dancing in its mist. Want more? Keep heading upriver to Turtleback Falls, Drift Falls and Hidden Falls. See them all in just under a 4-mile round-trip.

Combine a nature hike with some yoga and you've got yourself one life-changing morning. Guides with Asheville's Namaste in Nature lead the leisurely jaunt to 100-foot-high Catawba Falls or a view-filled trek on the Appalachian Trail, then through a guided meditation and yoga session. You'll go home with photos.

If you've seen A River Runs Through It, you know there's zen in fly fishing. North Carolina has 4,000 miles of flowing water that support trout-more than any other southeast state. Get your casting four-count rhythm in sync on the Western North Carolina Fly Fishing Trail. If you only have time for one stop on the trail, try Panthertown Creek, where groves of eastern hemlock and yellow birch shelter quiet pools.

Trout also fill the waters of Burke County. Cast a line at the creeks within South Mountains State Park near Connelly Springs.

UNTROUBLED WATERS

Lakeview at Fontana near Bryson City offers liquid nirvana—a treetop soaking cabana where your tub overlooks the forest canopy. Stay the night and walk the wooded trails, get an aromatic hot towel massage, take a yoga class, or just sit on the deck and admire the Fontana Lake view.

Travelers have been "taking the waters" at historic Hot Springs
Resort and Spa's mineral springs since the 1790s. Stress evaporates in the magnesium-rich H2O of a private open-air cabana. Before or after your soak, take the short hike to Lover's
Leap on the Appalachian Trail—it runs right through town—or rent a raft and paddle the free-flowing French Broad River.

In artsy Highlands, the Europeanstyle Old Edwards Inn resort beckons with a spa and dual outdoor mineral pools. Lie on a chaise in the serenity solarium (fountains and a stone fireplace) while waiting for an immersive bath ritual and four-hands massage (two therapists knead away).

Get serious about stress reduction at these peaceful destinations.

ASHEVILLE

Settle into an antigravity chair in a cool, glowing room encased in 5 tons of rock salt crystals—then just breathe. The Salt Spa of Asheville and Himalayan Salt Cave Sanctuary uses halotherapy to release trace minerals into the air, which promotes freer breathing and deep relaxation. After a peaceful session in the cave, indulge in various forms of massage.

BOONE

Start self-care at the Art of Living Retreat Center, an epicenter for inner change.
Campus views of the Blue Ridge Mountains will help quiet your mind, but you'll also learn breathing and meditation techniques, practice yoga, hear talks on philosophy and spirituality, and spend time in the pottery studio. Meals are prepared with organic produce grown on-site.

DANBURY

Time spent with nature may be the ultimate destressor. Climb on 400-foot-high cliffs, paddle the Dan River or spend the night in a rustic cabin at Hanging Rock State Park.

Or just go for a hike—20 miles of wooded trails lead past picturesque waterfalls and high rock cliffs.

CHAPEL HILL

Farm life is pretty sweet—just ask the resident honeybees at Honeysuckle Tea House. Lie in a hammock while you sip lavender tea or spoon a smoothie made with the farm's blueberries. A breeze cools this open-air cafe that overlooks tranquil herb and flower gardens, open summer weekends. Tea House sales fund land and farm conservation.

YOGA WITH A TWIST

What's your yoga flavor? Winston-Salem has studios galore. If hot yoga and goat yoga seem so last year, it's time you tried hip-hop yoga.

2B Yoga's vinyasa-style poses are set to a bust-a-move beat, leaving you feeling simultaneously relaxed and invigorated. Or get your om on with Saturday morning beer yoga at Foothills Brewery. For $10, flow through asanas on the spacious tasting-room floor, then roll up your mat and relax with a pint. It's the perfect marriage of lotus and lagers.

Elevate your yoga game by taking your practice to the water. The flow yoga classes at Aloha Paddle Sports in Cornelius challenge you to float on a stand-up paddleboard on Lake Norman (and try not to wobble as you move through a series of poses). The benefits? Improved concentration, balance and core strength.

SPA SERENITY

Bid farewell to gravity and the grind as you float effortlessly on 10 inches of skin-temperature saltwater. Dark, silent water tanks at the Floating Shanti in Fayetteville reduce sensory inputs to nearly zero, which downshifts your stress response and slows your racing mind. In Cary, escape to art-filled public spaces on 12 wooded acres at The Umstead Hotel and Spa. The outdoor pool feels like an Alpine spa, with a backdrop of pin oaks and a 3-acre lake.

In Pittsboro, kiss your skin's impurities goodbye while cocooned in a seaweed body wrap at The Spa at Fearrington. But why stop there? Keep the nurturing going with a classic Swedish massage, or head south to The Spa at Pinehurst for an invigorating cryotherapy treatment. You'll feel the endorphin boost as your skin is cooled by a subzero blast of air, which helps to remove toxins, control inflammation and improve skin elasticity.

AYDEN TO MURPHY

From the mountains to the sandhills, great barbecue relies on three key ingredients: smoke, skill and time. The nonprofit North Carolina Barbecue Society Historic Barbecue Trail showcases the many little spots and longtime pitmasters who carry on this demanding tradition. The route meanders from Ayden to Murphy.

To be selected for the trail, barbecue restaurants must cook their meat over pits fueled by wood or charcoal, make their own sauce, and have operated for at least 12 years (making darn tasty barbecue helps, too). As new joints qualify and, unfortunately, others close, the trail is updated. Don't worry if you get a little lost along the way. Just follow the smoke.

THE SONKER TRAIL

SURRY COUNTY

Sonker is a kind of deep-dish cobbler in a crust (similar to a fruit pot pie) that's popular around here. The dessert's history is murky, but three things are pretty clear: 1) Sonker is often served with what's called a "dip," a sugar-cream sauce poured over when serving. 2) Fruit filling is commonly used, although sweet potato variations are also made. 3) It's completely delicious. The Sonker Festival has been held annually near Mount Airy since 1980, with music and competitions for the best sonker. Get your fix the rest of the year on the Surry Sonker Trail, which highlights sonker-friendly bakeries, general stores and country restaurants.

MORAVIAN CULINARY TRAILS

FORSYTH COUNTY

When Moravians settled in what is now Winston-Salem in the 18th century, they brought more than a desire for religious freedom. They carried baking traditions from present-day Germany and the Czech Republic, infusing the area with new flavors.

Moravian cookies, the paper-thin treats typically flavored with spices and molasses, have their own trail of bakeries and restaurants that use the cookies as an ingredient.

Good news: Mrs. Hanes' Moravian

Cookies in Clemmons ships their version anywhere. At Winkler Bakery in Old Salem, site of the Moravian settlement, try another tradition: sugar cake, a buttery, sweet, yeastrisen coffee cake. (Fun fact: Mashed potatoes are the secret ingredient.)

Moravian chicken pie is chicken and broth in a crust, no veggies—never call it a pot pie. It's a Winston-Salem delicacy, and the Moravian Chicken Pie Trail takes you to eateries where you can sample local variations.

Seafood

The ocean catch has been lightly fried up in Calabash since 1940. Oyster farming is booming, too. Spring brings soft-shell blue crabs, and there's caviar from sturgeon raised in Lenoir.

Cheerwine

Salisbury's favorite beverage has been produced in the Rowan County town since 1917. These days, many pockets of the country sell the "Nectar of North Carolina" in stores and restaurants.

All things pickled

Grab a souvenir jar of chow chow relish, pickled okra or bread-andbutter pickles. Like it hot? Pick up a pickled version of the famously incendiary Carolina Reaper pepper.

PINEHURST RESORT

It's Donald Ross' legendary No. 2 course that makes bucket lists, but this fertile Piedmont golfing ground offers eight other 18-hole layouts, including the No. 9 course, designed by Jack Nicklaus. Golfers of all skill levels can start with The Cradle, a short and fun nine-hole course.

THE OMNI GROVE LINVILLE PARK INN GOLF CLUB ASHEVILLE

Golf legends (Jones, Hogan and Nicklaus) and U.S. presidents have played the Grove Park Golf Course. Designed by Donald Ross in 1926, it was restored to its original character and spirit in 2001. It's a shortish but accuracydemanding track with elevated tees that maximize views of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Expect plenty of

LINVILLE

Near the site of the state's first course (which was later abandoned), the 1924 Donald Ross design was carved with muleand-pan grading, not tractors. Small, severe greens vex, but it's a small sacrifice for mountain views and meandering Grandmother Creek, Par-4 No. 3 ranks as one of the sport's top holes.

Golf Club, Southern Pines

PINE NEEDLES LODGE AND GOLF CLUB

SOUTHERN PINES

The course has hosted three U.S. Women's Opens. A 2017 restoration brought back Donald Ross' original wide fairway landing zones. Signature No. 3 is a spectacular par 3.

GREENSBORO

The East Course is a bit of a beast—it helps to have some length off the tee. Tricky greens make you earn up-and-downs. The par-5 18th is picture-perfect, with a big lake guarding the green. The longer links-style West Course follows the Piedmont's naturally rolling terrain and elevation changes. The greens aren't as severe, but be ready to carry some water hazards.

BRUNSWICK PLANTATION AND GOLF RESORT CALABASH

Pair two of the three nine-hole tracks in a custom 18. Azalea tests your nerves off the tee. Dogwood's fairways forgive, but tempt you to cut corners—and find trouble. Plan to score at short, windswept, links-like Magnolia.

KILMARLIC GOLF CLUB

POWELLS POINT

Golf on the Outer Banks is like a nature walk with a club in your hand. Play amid forests and wetlands on a course that's not grip-and-rip long, but no patsy, thanks to expert bunkering and frequent water.

MOUNT MITCHELL GOLF CLUB

BURNSVILLE

Hate blind shots? You'll love Mount Mitchell, a virtually flat layout in the Toe River Valley. Don't let mountain views distract or you'll wind up in the unforgiving rough or frequent water—the South Toe River skirts the course, and Still Fork Creek crosses some holes. Buy fish food at the snack bar to feed the big trout on No. 2 and No. 15.

SAXAPAHAW Pis for pub, puppets and produce, all part of Saxapahaw Rivermill, a former cotton mill and dye house on the banks of the Haw River. The historic mill's buildings have been recast as homes and businesses with easy access to food, music, water and trails. Community gathering spot The Eddy Pub serves up NC beer, plus food sourced from local farms. Paperhand Puppet Intervention stages family-friendly shows with giant puppets and masks made from papier-mâché, cardboard, bamboo and recycled materials. Saturdays in Saxapahaw (May to August) includes a farmers market, food trucks and live music. It's free, but folks chip in for the band when the "swan bucket" comes around.

DURHAM Restored redbrick factory buildings that once churned out cigarettes now anchor the American Tobacco Campus, a development of offices, apartments, retail, lodging, and sports and arts venues. At one time, the American Tobacco Company was the biggest cigarette maker in the world. Its Durham operations closed in 1987. Walk through campus past the Lucky Strike-logoed smokestack and water tower, as well as an artificial river with falls. Dine at white tablecloth NanaSteak or sports bar Tobacco Road Sports Cafe, catch Minor League Baseball at Durham Bulls Athletic Park, or walk to a show at the Durham Performing Arts Center. The Aloft Durham Downtown hotel, next to the arts center, offers loft-inspired rooms with modern decor and views of the historic factory buildings.

ROCKY MOUNT Take a cotton to Rocky Mount Mills, a former cotton mill turned to homes, offices, restaurants and breweries. Opened along the Tar River more than 200 years ago, Rocky Mount was one of the state's oldest cotton mills. Walk the grounds to see its historic buildings—dating from before the Civil War to the mid-20th centurybeautifully refit for new uses, such as the region's only beer incubator. Across the street, Mill Village, once home to mill workers, bustles anew as a modern residential neighborhood. A tiny-house hotel, River and Twine, offers 20 boutique homes designed for the setting. Each cozy, modern abode comes packed with amenities such as televisions, fridges, microwaves, coffeemakers and Wi-Fi. Lofted sleeping areas add a surprising amount of airiness to each space.

WILMINGTON Once on the wrong side of the tracks-literally, thanks to rail traffic—the Brooklyn Arts District now cries "All aboard!" Set downtown between the Cape Fear River and Smith Creek, the area saw its rebirth gather steam when pharma company PPD moved its headquarters there. Historic St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, saved from demo, became the Brooklyn Arts Center, a venue for weddings and the arts. Cape Fear Community College added the Wilson Center, which hosts concerts and theater productions. New apartments and condos share blocks with old industrial buildings, their residents filling places like Goat and Compass pub and Flytrap Brewing, in an old office building. Other faves include wine and beer bar Palate Bottle Shop and Reserve, The District Kitchen and Cocktails (polished-casual dining), and The Red Eye Bakery, known for pastries, especially croissants.

CAMP NORTH END, CHARLOTTE

Eat, drink and be boho in a place where Model T Fords and military missiles once rolled off assembly lines. Camp North End, a 76-acre industrial site not far from Uptown, houses artists, entrepreneurs and other creative types in spaces that preserve the factory-warehouse character of the buildings while catering to modern office users and business owners. Retail tenants include Hex Coffee and the taproom for Heist Brewery and Barrel Arts. Held throughout the year, special events include Durag Fest (celebrating Juneteenth) and Mistletoe Market, featuring holiday pop-up shops from local vendors. Winter brings indoor classic films, fitness classes, chef-driven foodie fests and the Bob Ross Paintalong on Valentine's Day (tickets go fast).

WHAT'S UP, DOCK?

Camp North End in Charlotte invited local artists to paint murals on the doors of its old buildings loading docks. See more murals in the venue's open-air Boileryard space.

THIS HILL IS ALTIVE WITH THE SOUND OF GOOD TIMES

WINSTON-SALEM

Industry Hill rises from workingclass roots: It was long a place for factories and warehouses. Structures from that past anchor a hub for creatives, entrepreneurs and fun. The Big Winston Warehouse houses Fiddlin' Fish Brewing Company and Black Mountain Chocolate. Craft beer maker Wise Man Brewing occupies the 90-plus-year-old Angelo Brothers building. Next door, The Ramkat holds up to 1,000 for concerts. On weekends, live country, bluegrass and folk acts fill Earl's, a bar and Southern kitchen. Broad Branch Distillery offers tours and a tasting room. New kid Radar Brewing Company opened last year. There's more beer (and kombucha) at Winston Junction Market, the Saturday farmers market. Gym Rock Box Bouldering caters to climbers. Axe Club of America's aim is to test yours—it's the city's first axe-throwing bar. Maker space Mixxer beckons tech and fabrication geeks. Sunnyside Mercantile sells locally made decor. And a pit stop at The Winston Cup Museum tops off your tank with NASCAR history.

OLYMPUS DIVE CENTER, MOREHEAD CITY

Dive deep into haunting chapters of maritime history with underwater visits among the roughly 2,000 shipwrecks along the coast. The Graveyard of the Atlantic includes German submarines, a World War I gunboat, British fishing trawlers and 18th-century schooners.

EDENTON BAY CRUISES, EDENTON

The boat is refreshingly quiet, the waves are soothingly calm and the views are spectacular. Bring a snack and a drink aboard Capt. Mark Thesier's six-passenger Liber-teα as he gives a tour of historic Edenton Bay.

IMPULSIVE CHARTERS, BALD HEAD ISLAND

Capt. Paul Thompson's Deep Drop Trip—the most adventurous of his four voyage options with a specialized electric rod and reel—takes you up to 60 miles offshore. You drop bait there to depths beyond 800 feet. (That's three times the height of the Statue of Liberty.) The swordfish, tilefish and snowy grouper you catch will be correspondingly huge.

DANIEL BOONE HERITAGE CANOE TRAIL, LEXINGTON

The 22-mile stretch of the Yadkin River combines a history lesson on Daniel Boone with an outdoor adventure. Ten markers highlight the famed outdoorsman's travels in North Carolina, including Boone's game lands where he hunted, and Boone's Cave, where he played as a boy.

NANTAHALA OUTDOOR CENTER, BRYSON CITY

Billed as the nation's largest outdoor recreation attraction, the center features one of the top paddling schools in the country. Millions of people have taken its whitewater rafting trips; guides also are available for fishing, biking, hiking and climbing.

DEEP CREEK, BRYSON CITY

Tucked within the legendary Great Smoky Mountains National Park, Deep Creek provides gorgeous views of several impressive waterfalls. Most are accessible via easy to moderate hikes from the trailhead near Deep Creek campground, including Juney Whank Falls (0.6 mile), Three Waterfalls Loop (2.4 miles) and Deep Creek-Indian Creek Loop (4.4 miles).

OUTER BANKS SAILING ACADEMY, MANTEO; BLOCKADE RUNNER BEACH RESORT, WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Whether you are an experienced sailor or don't know a bowline from a bow tie, these schools have classes to get you out onto the water with the wind rippling through your hair.

KITTY HAWK KITES KITEBOARDING SCHOOL, RODANTHE

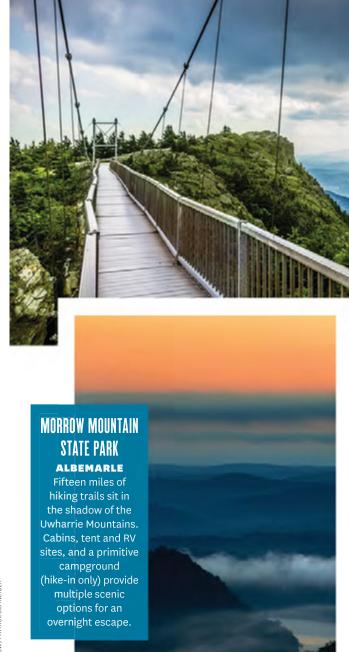

Hatteras Island on North Carolina's Outer Banks is sometimes called the mecca of kiteboarding, and one look at the beach reveals why. Instructors, students and veteran kiteboarders flit all over the water, flipping and spinning under the power of wind.

TONY SILVAGNI SURF SCHOOL, CAROLINA BEACH

Slather on some sunscreen, grab a board and paddle out into the waves at this school starring lead instructor Tony Silvagni, a pro surfer with more than a decade's worth of experience teaching landlubbers to hang 10. Lessons taught by a handful of instructors are available year-round.

GRANDFATHER MOUNTAIN, LINVILLE

Expect 360-degree views on one of the Blue Ridge Mountains' loftiest peaks (5,946 feet). At the Mile High Swinging Bridge—America's highest suspension footbridge—walk across an 80-foot chasm.

CEDAR CREEK STABLES, LAKE LURE

The Overlook Trail leads horse riders over much of Cedar Creek's 350 verdant acres. The highlight is a stop atop a mountain ridge that gives this trail its name.

BIKING TRAILS, BREVARD

Cycling is part of the culture here, with dozens of opportunities for mountain biking and road biking. There is enough variety to challenge veterans and to welcome newbies.

Bare Dark Sky Observatory, Burnsville

The stars leap out of the darkness at the mountainous observatory. The "Sam Scope" (housed at Mayland Earth to Sky Park and the biggest public telescope in the state) offers views of Saturn's rings. A smaller on-site telescope is popular with photographers who shoot the heavens. Reservations required.

HIGHLANDS AERIAL PARK, SCALY MOUNTAIN

The Brave Indian Challenge Course was built with kids in mind but thrills adults too. All adventurers expand their comfort zones on ziplines, a suspension bridge, a balance beam and more.

1902 WRIGHT GLIDER EXPERIENCE, NAGS HEAD

Do you have what it takes to fly a glider like the one the Wright Brothers used at Kitty Hawk before they gave birth to powered aviation? Only one is available to rent. With Kitty Hawk Kites, get a running start... and fly.

OBX BIPLANE TOURS, MANTEO

The wind whips across your face as you sit in the open cockpit of a biplane. The large radial engine shakes you, while the views of the coast move you.

DUCK PARASAIL, DUCK

By the time you reach 500 feet, you will no longer be freaked out by the fact you are being pulled by a boat and held aloft by a sail. Instead, you will be mesmerized by the 360-degree view of the Outer Banks on one side and the Atlantic Ocean on the other.

HIGH GRAVITY ADVENTURES, BLOWING ROCK

Ziplining at top speed is fun. Stopping, not so much—at least not when you have to do it yourself. At High Gravity, guides provide the brakes, allowing guests to lean back and fly. An optional simulated free fall ends the adventure.

NANTAHALA OUTDOOR CENTER, BRYSON CITY

Choose from five zipline excursions, including the scene-stealing Mountaintop, with a half-mile zip (the region's longest) sending riders across Great Smoky Mountains ridgetops.

REYNOLDA Reynolda House Museum of American

Art, 2250 Reynolda Rd., (336) 758-5150. The former home of tobacco baron R.J. Reynolds and his wife, Katharine, this restored 1917 country home is now one of the nation's premier American art museums. It displays a fine art collection spanning three centuries, representing the finest works by American artists such as Mary Cassatt, Frederic Church, Jacob Lawrence and Georgia O'Keeffe. nctg.co/c2gkg

Single Sisters House Museum, Salem College, 601 S. Church St., (336) 721-2600. It's the oldest building on a college campus in North Carolina and the longest-standing building in the United States continuously associated with the education of girls and women. The building housed unmarried Moravian women who were teachers and the students who were eager to learn math, science, geography and the arts. nctg.co/cuF67

Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art (SECCA), 750 Marguerite Dr., (336) 725-1904. Exhibiting the most innovative and cutting-edge art of today from emerging international, national and local artists in three galleries spanning more than 10,000 square feet. nctg.co/cWXxi

YADKINVILLE

Brandon Hills Vineyard, 1927 Brandon Hills Rd., (336) 463-9463. By staying small and through meticulous farming, we produce better grapes and, therefore, better wines. nctg.co/c7nSb

Hanover Park Vineyard, 1927 Courtney-Huntsville Rd., (336) 463-2875. Our wines reflect the time, care, and research necessary to make the best wine that can be made in an old-world style that begs for food pairings. nctg.co/c6pNe Property

Attractions

The following list of attractions in the Coast region is arranged alphabetically by city. You may find more detailed information on any of these attractions online at visitnc.com or the individual attraction's website.

REGIONAL

Alligator River National Wildlife Refuge,

(252) 473-1131. Explore more than 150,000 acres of wetland habitats and a wide variety of wildlife, from wood ducks to alligators and black bears to red wolves. Find hiking and wildlife trails, plus fishing areas and trails for kayaking and canoeing. nctg.co/cgMoi

Cape Hatteras National Seashore,

(252) 473-2111. The first national seashore in the country. Plants and wildlife here adapt continually to the water, wind and storms. Walk the beach, kayak the sound or seasonally climb the iconic Cape Hatteras or Bodie Island Lighthouse. nctg.co/c6vzd

Cape Lookout National Seashore,

(252) 728-2250. Explore the three undeveloped barrier islands, where favorite activities include fishing, swimming, birding, boating, windsurfing, kayaking, shelling and seasonally climbing Cape Lookout Lighthouse. Tour the now-deserted Portsmouth Village to imagine a once bustling sea village. nctg.co/cfxAb

Croatan National Forest, (252) 638-5628. Bordered on three sides by tidal rivers and Bogue Sound, this 160,000-acre forest offers diverse wildlife and a variety of recreation, such as fishing and canoeing on blackwater creeks and saltwater marshes. nctg.co/c6xMx

Historic Albemarle Tour, (252) 792-6605. A self-guided driving trail takes the traveler through 400 years of U.S. history, culture and the environment of 17 coastal counties. Easily identifiable brown and white signs invite visitors to follow in the footsteps of pilgrims and pirates, soldiers and slaves, sea captains and colonists at the 27 sites on the trail. nctg.co/c9eXi

Lake Gaston, (252) 535-1687. Straddling the North Carolina and Virginia border between I-85 and I-95, this 20,000-acre lake offers a variety of water sports, including fishing, kayaking, canoeing, swimming, wakeboarding and water-skiing. Enjoy incredible opportunities to observe wildlife, too. nctg.co/ctkDX

Pea Island National Wildlife Refuge,

(252) 987-2394. This 6,000-acre refuge is paradise for both birds and birders, with more than

365 species of birds. It features observation platforms and two universally accessible wildlife trails. nctg.co/c9gF5

Pocosin Lakes National Wildlife Refuge,

(252) 796-3004. Located in Washington, Hyde and Tyrrell counties, the refuge includes portions of the banks along the Scupperrong and Alligator rivers, including Pungo Lake. View unique habitats, diverse wildlife, such as black bears and migrating waterfowl, and natural scenic beauty, whether boating, driving or hiking, nctg.co/cgiRv

Roanoke River National Wildlife Refuge,

(252) 794-5326. Home to animals such as deer, otters, beavers, muskrats and black bears, as well as nearly 200 species of migrating birds. Informal trail systems are open for hiking and birdwatching; some trails and parts of the refuge are only accessible by boat. hctg.co/cTSfy

Roanoke River Paddle Trail, (252) 792-3790. Meandering from the Inner Coastal Plain to the Atlantic Ocean, the river and its tributaries offer a unique wilderness experience for paddlers and outdoor enthusiasts. Home to black bears, river otters, deer, bobcats, and beavers, plus more than 200 bird species. Nearly 140 miles of water trail link several towns with unique riverside camping platforms along the way. nctg.co/ceP3X

ATLANTIC BEACH

Fort Macon State Park, 2303 E. Fort Macon Rd., (252) 726-3775. Built to guard the entrance to Beaufort Harbor, this five-sided fort is one of the finest surviving examples of 19th-century military architecture and fortification. Enjoy a museum-quality coastal education center and an unspoiled shoreline for swimming, surf fishing and beachcombing. nctg.co/cAzfV

AURORA

Aurora Fossil Museum, 400 Main St., (252), 322-4238. Displays a wide variety of Miocene and Pliocene marine fossils, mostly specimens collected from a nearby phosphate mine. See fossilized bones, teeth, shells and coral, plus remnants of the terror of the Miocene-Pliocene seas: C. megalodon. Also check out gems and minerals from around the world. Dig at the "Pits of the Pungo" to discover your very own Miocene-age fossils. nctg.co/cJxwM

BALD HEAD ISLAND

Old Baldy Lighthouse & Smith Island Museum of History, 101 Lighthouse Wynd, (910) 457-7481. North Carolina's oldest standing lighthouse marks the mouth of the historic Cape Fear River. Experience Old Baldy up close with the climb to the top for a breathtaking view of the area's natural beauty. The museum, located in a replica 1850s lighthouse keeper's cottage, showcases the island's maritime past. nctg.co/ckp6e

BATH

Historic Bath State Historic Site, 207 Carteret St., (252) 923-3971. The first incorporated town in North Carolina. Today you can enjoy a guided tour featuring several sites, including the circa 1751 Palmer-Marsh House, a furnished Colonial home of a wealthy official; and the circa 1830 Bonner House, a furnished home of a Bath planter. nctg.co/cwtbq

BEAUFORT

Beaufort Historic Site, 130 Turner St., (252) 728-5225. Tour beautifully restored historic homes interpreted in period style, the old jail, the oldest wood-frame courthouse in the state, an apothecary shop and the Old Burying Ground. Take a tour aboard a vintage English double-decker bus, and hear costumed guides tell stories of Beaufort's rich past of pirates, star-crossed lovers and Confederate spies. nctg.co/cNztp

Hungry Town Tours, 400 Front St., (252) 648-1011. Choose from several unique walking, bike, culinary and historical guided tours. Our professional, local guide entertains you with fascinating details, historical narratives and true stories that make up the rich history of this seaport town. nctg.co/czYbL

North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front St., (252) 504-7740. Reflects coastal life and interprets lighthouses and lifesaving stations, the seafood industry, motorboats and more. This is the official repository for artifacts from the legendary pirate Blackbeard's wrecked flagship, Queen Anne's Revenge, including cannons, grenades, belt buckles and beads. nctg.co/c7nCF

Rachel Carson Reserve, 2370 Lennoxville Rd., (252) 220-0779. Explore a diverse array of important coastal habitats including tidal flats, salt marshes, sand dunes, shrub thicket, submerged aquatic vegetation and maritime forest. A popular nesting and migratory habitat for many bird species, plus home to wild horses. Accessible only by private boat or ferry. nctg.co/cCrtT

Shackleford Banks Wild Horses, 306 Golden Farm Rd., (252) 728-6308. See legendary "banker ponies," who have freely roamed our islands for more than 400 years. The herd numbers more than 200 horses and is the only inhabitants of this southernmost barrier island. Ferry services operate to view the horses. nctg.co/cDsgr

BELHAVEN

Belhaven Memorial Museum, 211 E. Main St., (252) 943-6817. Includes 30,000 buttons, a dressed-flea wedding couple, and war artifacts, plus antique dolls and toys, money, furniture, farm tools, period fashions, and technological antiquities from around the world. nctg.co/cGJDq

BEULAVILLE

Mike's Farm, 1600 Haw Branch Rd., (910) 324-3422. This family-oriented business features agritourism with seasonal hayrides, pumpkin-picking, Christmas trees and animals for kids to feed and pet, plus a variety of events throughout the year. nctg.co/cKvYT

BOILING SPRING LAKES

Boiling Spring Lakes Preserve, 1 Leeds Rd., (910) 395-5000. Explore more than 6,000 acres with a bounty of rare flora and fauna, such as the endangered red-cockaded woodpecker and a variety of carnivorous plants, plus more than 400 vascular plant species. The Nature Trail meanders through a portion of the fragile acres. nctg.co/cYUAz

BURGAW

ART ABOUT TOWN

Public art and social media go together like oil and canvas (or spray paint and concrete). Fill your feed with NC's street masterpieces.

1 @PAGE406 A cardinal—North Carolina's state bird—perches in downtown High Point thanks to muralist Kendall Doub.
2 @ROCKERSPRINTSHOP Artist Nils Westergaard painted his Rising Tulips mural on the back of a gym in Greensboro. 3 @HALEYLIZCOOK You'll find plenty of good vibes in Asheville, plus tons of public art throughout this mountain mecca of creativity. 4 @LAURLIKESLLAMAS Bear season runs May to October in Hendersonville each year, when acrylic species "roam" town. 5 @CARYVISUALART Kinetic sculpture
Curvaceous Kiss stands smack dab in the center of Sears Farm Road Park in Cary. 6 @MKAY_15 Salisbury's graffiti park on Main Street gives artists a chance to go wild with spray paint—and their imaginations. 7 @BURKE_RM Instagrammers take flight by posing at a winged brick wall in downtown New Bern. 8 @LUCIDDREAMVR Major, the bronze bull that guards Durham's CCB Plaza, doesn't give a snort if you take his pic.
